

You Are a Soundmaker!

Being a Soundmaker means more than just making a donation. It means sounding off in support of our college and our community. It means making some noise for more equitable access to higher education and the opportunities education provides for a better life.

Your generous contributions to the South Puget Sound Community College Foundation help provide scholarships, grants, and emergency funds that make an immediate impact on student lives by helping them pay for critical needs as they arise. Thank you for sounding off for students! We're thrilled to feature your impact on student success in this report.

With gratitude,

Kelly Green
